In Loving Memory of

Ethan Edward Lombard

(July 5, 2007 - October 20, 2007)

"Making the decision to have a child is momentous. It is to decide forever to have your heart walking around outside your body."

Elizabeth Stone

This memorial website was created to commemorate the beautiful life of our baby boy Ethan Edward Lombard who was born on July 5, 2007 and returned to Heaven on October 20, 2007.

Dear Ethan,

Since the day you entered our lives, we knew that we were given a very special little angel. We cherished every moment of your life that God blessed us with... 3 months and 15 days worth. It hurt more than we could have ever imagined when you went to Heaven, but we trust that God knows how special you are and that He needed you by His side.

Your impact on our lives, and the lives of so many others that love you, will never be forgotten. We miss you every second of every day baby e, and we will live with you in our hearts forever.

With patience, we will see you again, our little angel baby. <3

Read Ethan's Life Story

Here are a few songs that make us think of Ethan for various reasons. For instance, the song "Mushaboom" was a song that we would always play for him when he was still in my belly. "Harvest Moon" and "Bird Stealing Bread" were songs that we would play for him to help him fall asleep at bedtime. :) Other songs are just some that we would sing and dance with him to, mixed with a few others that just touch our hearts now that he is in Heaven.

He enjoyed them, so we hope you do too. <3

By the way, if you have a song that makes you think of Ethan and you would like to have it added to the playlist, send me an email at wendilombard@gmail.com :)

Baby Ethan's Valentine's Day things. :)

Missing you always.

*Some people only dream of Angels...
I held one in my arms.*

Valentines... to Heaven

This Valentine is not of the ordinary kind,
It's still filled with love...and blessings inside;
But mine has to be sent on the wings of love...
You see it's destination is the Heavens above.

It's not being sent to my parents so dear,
For they are still with me each day of the year;
It's being sent to my child...who left earth so soon,
Who's now in the Heavens with the stars and the moon.

The message is the same as your valentine,
I love you...my sweet precious child of mine;

My love is still deeper than the ocean is blue,
And it's sent with hugs and kisses...from me to you.

I know you are with me each and every day,
You listen as I talk to you...and hear what I say;
For that is one thing that death cannot do...
...you'll always be a part of me...and me a part of you.

Happy Valentine's day sunshine...I miss you so much,
I know you know how many lives you have touched;
You'll always be mine...I love you with all my heart,
I know we'll be together again...and then we'll never part.

So you see the meaning is still the same...
The method of delivery is the only change;
Mine must be sent by a little white dove...
On the wings of Heavenly Love.

"To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die."

- Thomas Campbell

Forever
Young

The Broken Chain

*We little knew that morning that God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly, In death we do the same.
It broke our hearts to lose you, you did not go alone;
for part of us went with you, the day God called you home.*

*You left us peaceful memories, your love is still our guide, and though we cannot see you, you are always at our side.
Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same,
but as God calls us one by one, the chain will link again.*

The Tree of Life
by Lisa O. Engelhardt

*If I could grow a tree for you,
I'd water it with tears,
And nurture it with memories
gathered through the years*

*Grounded in firm values
this tree would find its roots
And from its legacy of love*

would grow the sweetest fruits.

*Ever branching outward,
its canopy would swell,
A living, loving tribute to a life lived full and well.*

Finally, its leaves would reach the floor of heaven, and then I'd climb up on its branches... just to hold you once again.

"May we live in peace without weeping. May our joy outline the lives we touch without ceasing. And may our love fill the world, angel wings tenderly beating."

- Irish Blessing

The background of the entire image is a textured, mottled olive-green or taupe color. In the upper right quadrant, there are two roses. The one on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more fully bloomed. Both roses are rendered in a light, almost white tone, making them stand out against the darker background. The overall aesthetic is soft and elegant.

Condolences

from the deepest of our hearts...

February 10, 2008

Thank you so much Wendi for giving me such hope. To see you how you are now, is how i hope I can be. I want to be stornng for him but at the same time, I am so afraid to go forward at all, he was my dream come true, and now he is my angel! You are truly an inspiration to me and I appriciate all the care that you have shown to a stranger. May God Bless you and your family!

I am so sorry!

February 7, 2008

I am so sorry that such a beautiful little boy was taken from your arms! I don't know how you are being so strong! I feel like my heart is ripped out everyday that I wake up and my little Tristan is not there! Keep your strength and hope up! I am glad that Tristan has such a wonderful companion that can play with him in Heaven! God Bless you!

Hello

I am honored to meet you guys. I am so sorry for the way we got to know each other. On the other hand, i don't feel so alone, also i know how many beautiful kids Adam have up there. No wonder in every religion they tell you about "Heaven". Now i know the meanings of Heaven. Our kids together, so pure so beautiful,it must be an amazing place. Adam's fav Channel on TV was food network, he loved watching cartoon network too, just imagine both of our kids watching cartoon network ,laughing so loud , :))))))))) amazing Eh! thats my heaven. It keeps me going for me and my daughter.

I hope you believe in it too, Your son is well taken care of, Ethan has a "The Best Big Brother Adam". I know it cause he was best big brother to Aisha.

Till we see our kids again, i can only imagine.

I have seen Ethan, i don't know where though,maybe my dreams..but as soon as i saw his picture ,it just clicked, i know this little boy.

Janice

Jacky's Mom

January 24, 2008

Your mother and father have the most positive attitudes, so up'lifting to all of us out here that have also lost a child. I lost my little boy, too, just a couple of days before you died. He was twenty'eight, and my best friend. Your mother's memories have all the more brought back memories of my Jacky at your age.

What strong parents you have, and I commend them at realizing that God has a plan in the true scheme of things. He has a plan that we can't quite comprehend...but...it's His plan...and we are all a part of it. I praise him for being my own comforter, and your parent's comforter.

How many lives your little boy touched. You will never know the exact number, not until you see him in Heaven. How lucky you were to have him, and how lucky Heaven is tonight!!! Wendi, I often think of you and then think of Mary, Jesus's mother. I believe your loss is like hers not only in the sense that you both lost a son, but because you HAD to lose him, because he was meant for greater things, more then this earth could offer him. God bless you and your family, although I only know Tabby personally, I love you also, and I wish I could have known Ethan. I like to think of him dancing in the clouds with all the other little angels.

Suzie Amerson

You will never be forgotten

December 24, 2007

Ethan and family,

This is the first Christmas that heaven has a new and very special angel. It will be hard on all those you left behind and you will see them again one day. I am an avid admirer of Billy Graham and though he says you are in a much better place than we here on earth, the young age and the way you departed this life still makes it a very difficult and bitter pill to swallow. I feel the same way about you as all the lives lost in Viet Nam. They were young and called to duty and again, though in a better place, the circumstances and young age they were taken from us makes it very difficult to swallow and understand. Rest in peace, little angel and you are loved by so many, some you never knew.

keep your spirits up

you'll ask why thousands of times and never ever receive an answer, just remember god does what he thinks is best even if it seems like the meanest thing in the world. Ethan is up there looking down and hoping his mom and dad will get through this. For he is not sad because even though he is no longer physically with you on earth he sees everything you do every minute of the day and knows that you should be happy because although you can not see him, he will be around you always and forever, now he will never have to leave your side. so you will see him in the littlest of things, a sound or a smell, a kiss or a touch. Baby Ethan is the happiest baby in heaven because he has the best parents on earth.

I never had the priveledge to meet you and hold you but I saw your pictures and the joy you brought your Mommy and Daddy. Even now your pics bring a smile to my face and a tear to my eye. But my heart also swells at what a wonderful Mommy you have. I know in my heart that one day you will be held again in those arms and all will be complete.

I know that there had to be a reason you returned to heaven but everyone misses you greatly. Whisper in God's ear a special prayer for us all.

Love,

Susan

Beautiful!

November 30, 2007

My heart is crushed. All though I never got to meet you in person you have left your presence within my heart eternally. Nana once told me I was beautiful and to stay that way. I will pass this wonderful knowledge to you, however I'm sure she is instilling her wonderful advice into your beautiful heart/brain. I love you with all my heart and allways will. Tell Nana I said hello and I love her! She will take good care of you! I know It!

The best cousin you would have ever known!

Though you and I never met officially, I know you.

The things that I have heard, the pictures I have seen, you are love and you are loved. Your parents made a perfect little boy. You are and always will be in my heart.

Auntie Jennie and I miss you and love you.

Thank you for being in our lives.

Painted this for you today little e baby!
It's you and Daddy. ;)

I love you!

Mommy

Hey little baby! I made this for you! Tomorrow is the super bowl game & I know that if you were here Daddy would have dressed you in the Patriots outfit that your Uncle Moosie & Auntie Jen got you. We even had a little Patriots pacifier and bottle to match! That's okay though - I know you'll be rooting them on from up above. :)

I'm sure your G. Nana B., G. Nana K. & your G. Nana Betty will be right there with you since they were all from Mass! :)

Always thinking of you.
Always missing you.

Being in Virginia, listening to everyone stories about Ethan really showed how much he is loved. There was a calm about the group, until someone began telling a story or just talking about Ethan. Remembering the good times. People got together and listened to the stories and smiled and laughed. Ethan, you really did make an impact on alot of lives. Just the mention of your name changed peoples moods. You are missed and you will never be forgotten.

Ohhh, all of our songs! Daddy would always give me a silly look wondering where I came up with them, but I think he found them a little contagious too because I would always catch him singing them to you! ;)

Efaneddddieeee, lollipop!

He's the sweetest kid that you ever saw!

Efaneddieeee, oh my little efan ed. ya! ya!

Efaneddddieeee, doodlebug!

He's the cutest kid but he's never smug!

Efaneddieeee, oh my little efan ed. ya! ya! :D

And then there was this one when I would change your diaper.

Gonna clean your poopy di-tyyy

Gonna make it nice and tidyyy!

:) Ok, so I guess Mommy is a little sillier than most, but those songs always brought a big smile to your face, and you knew that I was singing them just for you.

And how I loved waking up with you each morning! You would always wait patiently for Mommy to get up, and after I wished you a good morning, I'd say "let me see my babyyyyy!" and I'd take all the blankets off you so I could see your little toes. :) You would get so excited and kick your little chubby legs! Then I would take your arms and stretch them realllly far up and say "stretch it out biggggggggggggggg" and then I'd bring them down "bammmm!" - that way we could get all the sleepys out. You would always be so full of smiles in the morning, and it was one of your favorite times to talk too. I would always ask you what you dreamed about... "did you dream aboutttttt nana? did you dream aboutttttt papa? did you dream aboutttttt fafa?" hehe... and you would talk! You had so much to say! You told me everything, and spared no details. :) You always woke up with a big smile on your face and that's all Mommy needed.

And when Mommy would cook dinner or do laundry, that was more time for us! I would sit you in your little bumbo seat right at the doorway and I'd tell you all about what I was doing. Step by step! You definitely know a thing or two about making ramen noodles, that's for sure. ;) -- And when I would do laundry, I would take a warm blanket out of the dryer and give it to you. You loved listening to Mommy talk to you, even if I was just teaching you how to fold towels and clean the dryer lint. :)

YOU LOVED your little floppy. Once you learned how to hold onto things and put things in your mouth, Mr. Floppy was always the bunny for the job. I would sit you in your little hammock swing at the doorway while I took a shower, and every time I would peek out of the shower to check on you, you'd be giving Mr. Floppy kisses. :) I remember after you went to Heaven, I asked Daddy to get Mr. Floppy from the house. As soon as I got it, I couldn't stop hugging it and smelling the little bunny ears... they smelt just like you. I think I might have sniffed all the smell out, honestly. Mommy & Daddy decided to put Mr. Floppy with you because we knew how much you loved him.

I remember the first time I put you in the little Johnny Jumper! You were so confused at first, but then you got the hang of it. I would hold both of your legs up in my hands and swingggggg you back and forth! You always got really big eyed (like when the camera would beep) LOL - I think it worried you at first, but then you started to love it. And a jumping you would go. :)

And don't think I'll ever forget how I would take your little fafa and rub it back and forth on your gums. You loved it! It was the verrrry first way I could get you to smile for me, everytime. :)

Sooooo many things Ethan. Little things. Both Daddy and I hold them all so dear to our hearts. We are so thankful to have them, each and every day. I pray that I never forget a single one of those moments. I love you baby boy...my little efan ed. <3

Dear Mommy and Daddy

*Please don't cry for me,
I'm where I need to be.
The Angels brought me here,
And they're always near.
You gave me all your love,
And I brought it with me up above.
I know you feel it everyday,
I'm really not that far away.
Please don't cry those tears,
Or waste away your years.
Please just hold me in your heart,
Where we're sure to never be apart.*

And when the time comes, please don't be late,

Remember, I'll be waiting for you both at Heaven's gate.

Love from Heaven, Your Baby Angel, Ethan

Daddy!

Hey, I remember when I first sat you on my lap and took your hands and had you play drums. You smiled so big and I knew you were a drummer like Daddy. And then I would put on Coheed and Cambria and play it on the guitar to you and ,again, you smiled so big! You may have looked more like mommy when you came out but you had Daddy's musical genes! So I know you're in Heaven right now so I'll tell you what, look for a guy named Jimi Hendrix, he will be able to amaze you with some guitar and for the drums, look for a guy named John Bonham. That guy knows a thing or two about the drums. And also don't forget to look down at Daddy! I'm not as good as those guys, but I make silly faces when I play! Love you!!!
Daddy!!

Uncle Moosie

The memory that sticks out in my mind is the call from your daddy, extremely tired, but you could hear the excitement in his voice. Ethan has arrived. When I ~~told~~ bragged to all my friends, I said that you came into the world screaming 'GO RED SOX'. All my friends laughed at me and called me an idiot. I was happy for your arrival. Your mom and dad were so proud, and still are so proud of you. Ethan, you are missed by so many. You are an amazing little boy. Thank you for the time you shared with us all. We love you forever and always.

Mommy

I smiled so big when I first saw this - Mr. Potato Head, in a Red Sox uniform, holding the 2007 World Series Trophy. :D I think it's all too perfect and makes me think of you -- especially since Daddy always calls you his lil potato head. :)

I love you!

Mommy

Daddy

Here's a memory. I thought that as days went by I would have an easier time dealing with your passing. I now have learned that that is the opposite. I feel the pain of your passing deeper than ever. I look in the back seat hoping to catch a glimpse of you. I am no longer scared to die knowing that when I do, the gates of Heaven will open up and God will be there to hand me my son I love and miss so much. That first time I touch your skin again I will cry for hours. I would give my own life to hold you for a minute. You have permanently changed me for the better. I know live my life in anxious anticipation to hold you again. And when that time comes, I promise, I will not let you go for anything. I miss you sounds, your smells, everything about you. I miss seeing you smile and knowing that we were gonna have an amazing future together, I miss spending time pondering what adventures we would get ourselves into. But most of all I miss holding you and letting you know how much I love you. I miss being able to tell you right to your ear. My life will never be 100% whole ever again. And thats because I fell in love with you the moment I met you. I would do anything to hear a breath come out of your mouth. But we will meet again, and we will pick up where we left off my little man. I love you... Daddy

Mommy

I think out of all your pictures
these are the ones that make me giggle the most.

My little nerd! :P Yah Fiya-d!

blurp pardon meeeee. :D

Every time the camera would beep, his eyes would get real big. hehe

Lil Potato Head!

Silly kid!

hehe - caught ya talkin!

Just new life goofin. :0)

Check out my "muscles"... ;)

You can shed tears that he is gone or you can smile because he has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he'll come back or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him or you can be full of the love you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he's gone or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind,
be empty and turn your back,
or you can do what he'd want:
smile, open your eyes, and go on loving.

Trying every day to live in a way that would make you proud Bubba.

We miss and love you so very much. <3

Mommy

Every day I read a passage out of a book I purchased called "Everyday Blessings" ... just a small book that contains a verse from the Bible each day, accompanied by a "thought for the day" type message.

I couldn't help but notice how some of the passages seemed to speak right to my heart on days I needed it the most.

For instance.

On October 19th, the day before Ethan passed away, it reads:

"I am the Holy One, and I am among you."

"You can claim courage from God's promises. May I give a few examples? When you are confused 'I know what I am planning for you,' says the Lord. 'I have good plans for you, not plans to hurt you.'

On those nights when you wonder where God is: "I am the Holy One, and I am among you."

On October 20th, the day Ethan passed away, it reads:

"God, examine me and know my heart... Lead me on the road to everlasting life"

"You don't have to be like the world to have an impact on the world. You don't have to be like the crowd to change the crowd. You don't have to lower yourself down to their level to lift them up to your level. Holiness doesn't seek to be odd. Holiness seeks to be like God"

And today... 12/12/07

"We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed -- in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet."

"The next time you use the phrase 'just one moment...' remember, that's all the time it will take to change the world".

I thank God every day for blessing me with Ethan's moments. He couldn't even speak a word yet, but somehow, he still managed to speak volumes to my heart. Without ever saying "I love you", he still filled my heart with so much more love than I ever thought possible. His smile brought me more joy than I thought existed in this world, and his presence alone moved me in ways I never thought a little red haired, blue eyed boy could. It am truly amazed by all the things he taught me in his little moment...and all without saying a single word. How beautiful of a thing is that?

I love you so much Ethan, and am so very proud and grateful to be your mom. <3

Mommy

Written on September 5th, the day Ethan turned 2 months old. :)

My boy is 2 months old todayyyyyyyy!

So, he had to go get all of his shots :[
but he did really well and only got upset for a second or two, and then took a big nap. :D

I must admit the past two months have just flownnnnnnn by.
He can now hold his head up pretty well.
His favorite thing ever is his little moo moo cow chair.
He loves bath time.
He tries to bat at his toys.
He can no longer fit into his "newborn" size clothes. :[
When I'm in the room, he hardly takes his eyes off me.
He gets incredibly happy when we sit him up on the couch next to us.
He enjoys music, a lot. His favorite: Iron & Wine
He loves when Jason takes his hands and acts like he's playing the drums

He smiles. :)

He loves his new fall hoodies. :D

He now weighs 14lbs, 3 ozs [plumperdoodle!]

His favorite C.D. to fall asleep to: Neil Young...[ha!]

He's now wearing size 1-2 diapers...not just 1s.

& if you stick your tongue out, he'll stick his out too.

He amazes me every day.

I really don't know how else to say it.

But he's the best thing that's ever happened to me.

And I love him more than he will ever know. <333

Mommy

I wrote this blog on November 6th, just a few short days after Ethan had passed. I re-read it tonight, and feel that even now, a month later, it says just how I feel.

November 06, 2007

ok.

today ethan would have been 4 months old.

i have faced my worst fear. and i am still here, breathing. remarkably. i can smile (again) when i think of him now, but no matter how much peace i eventually find in my heart, i will always miss him. and i know this. time will not pacify or subside that feeling, ever, and it hurts. but, for the time being, i am ok. i am grateful. i am lucky to have had the time i had. some people don't get that. i got that.

i took in every moment. three months and fifteen days worth. we were hardly ever apart, and i liked it that way. i remember even the smallest moments. like the time i picked him up, and realized that, on his own, he had placed both his arms around me to hug me for the first time. i remember the first time he ever reached for my hand, on his own, and held onto my finger. i mean, how easy is it to let those little moments pass by unnoticed? but i caught them. i remember them. and i am grateful for that.

i took it all in.

i have been trying to find ways to cope. to heal, in a healthy manner. every day is different though, and at a time like this, it's hard for my mind to wrap around what has happened, what I experienced, what I feel. to be so unsure of yourself, your purpose, your future, your thoughts, it's...well, there are just no words for it.

i think every possible emotion has run through my body, and some, multiple times over. and even at my weakest of moments, i find strength. somehow, i get through.

and ethan, i did not lose him. i am a better person, despite all of this pain, for just having known him and having had the chance to experience all that he was.

how i've learned so much in these short days. the value of a day, a moment, a breath,... patience.

some people live their entire life not knowing these things. 24 years of age, and i know.

and now, with time, i will rebuild and pick up the pieces with jason by my side and a loving family to fall back on.

and when it's all said and done, i know i will never be the same. but not because of this hurt, but because of his smile, his touch, his love, and all the feelings that go along with who he was. and i will live for him. i will smile at things i know he would smile at. and he will be with me, always.

Mommy

My sweet baby e. I can't stop looking at all your photos...all the amazing days we had and all the special moments we shared. I lived more in those 3 months than I ever did in these 24 years of life. I miss you so very much, each and every day, and every moment in between.

I love you.

Aunt LaLa

I was outside—just a little while ago and as I made my way up the driveway to the front door of the house, I found myself thinking of you; And then, to my amazement & surprise, I saw this little butterfly and all at once I felt calm and I knew it was you—telling me that it was going to be alright... WE MISS YOU SO MUCH SWEET BABY BOY!!

Mommy

Although he didn't do it too often, whenever I would catch Ethan sucking his thumb, my heart would instantly melt. To me, it was the cutest thing in the entire world and in a way, I think I loved it so much because it reminded me of just how little he was. :)

Well, one day I was laying next to him in the bed, and he had just started to learn how to put his hands in his mouth. As I watched him playing with his little fingers, the anticipation was just too much.

I grabbed my camera, and I sat there with it pointed on him the entire time, waiting...

.....

alllmosttttt...

yesssss!!! :D

I know it's such a little thing, but I can't help but remember how happy I was that day, how incredibly cute Ethan was sucking his little thumb, and how I ran to go show Jason... so proud of myself for actually getting a picture of it. :)

Now, more than ever, I feel so very lucky to have these photos.

I love you my little efaneddie. <33

Mommy

Thinking of you and all the fun we had at waterside that day. We dressed you in the cutesttttt outfit we could find. A little white onesie, khaki cargo pants and your little froggie shoes and rattle bracelet. :) It was such a nice day out, and we walked around for a while until we found the perfect tree to sit down under for our picnic.

When we took you out of your stroller, it didn't take us long to realize that you did a poopie all in your pants! (hehe) So, Mommy and Daddy had to undress you on our picnic blanket and clean you up. It all worked out to your benefit though, because then you got to lay nakey on the blanket and take a nap in the sunshine. :)

What a wonderful day that was! Mommy and Daddy smile every time we think of that day and all the fun we had.

We love you so much Ethan, now and always.

Mommy

Hello my sweet efaneddieeee. :) Mommy's friend made this for you: :) Just thinking of you before heading to bed. I love you!!

Tiny Angels

Tiny Angels rest your wings sit with me for awhile.
How I long to hold your hand,
And see your tender smile.
Tiny Angel, look at me,
I want this image clear....
That I will forget your precious face
Is my biggest fear.
Tiny Angel can you tell me,
Why you have gone away?
You weren't here for very long....
Why is it, you couldn't stay?
Tiny Angel shook his head,
"These things I do not know....
But I do know that you love me,
And that I love you so".

Daddy

Hey Bubbly! We miss you! We want you to know that if all we did in this life was be with you for those 3 and a half months, we would be perfectly content. Those were the most amazing days and we have been changed forever. We enjoyed every second of every day. From pee pee di-ties to crying, to the most amazing smiles and coos we have ever seen...it was the greatest memories we will take with us. We know we will see you again, but until then we will try to live in a way that we think would make you proud. We can't wait to be reunited but we also know we have a job to do here on earth spreading the love you gave us. But when that time is over, do know that we will have the most amazing times together. We love you, and will keep you close forever. Love and miss you potato-head!

Love Mommy and Daddy

Mommy

When God calls our children
to dwell with Him above,
We mortals sometime question
the wisdom of His love.
For no heartache can compare,
with the death of one small child.
Who does so much to make our world,
so wonderful and mild.
Perhaps God tires of calling
the aged to His fold.
So He picks a little rosebud

before it can grow old.
God knows how much we need them,
and so He takes just but a few.
To make the land of heaven
more beautiful to view.
Believing this is difficult
still somehow we must try.
For the saddest word that mankind knows will always be Goodbye.
So when a little child departs,

we who are left behind,
Must realize God loves children,
as true Angels are hard to find.

I love you my little angel baby. <3

Christmas in Heaven

I see the countless CHRISTMAS TREES around the world below with tiny lights like HEAVEN'S STARS reflecting on the snow.

The sight is so SPECTACULAR please wipe away that tear
for I am spending CHRISTMAS WITH JESUS CHRIST this year.

I hear the many CHRISTMAS SONGS that people hold so dear but the SOUND OF MUSIC can't compare with the CHRISTMAS CHOIR up here.

I have no words to tell you of the JOY their voices bring for it is beyond description to HEAR THE ANGELS SING.

I know HOW MUCH YOU MISS ME, I see the pain inside your heart
for I am spending CHRISTMAS WITH JESUS CHRIST this year.

I can't tell you of the SPLENDOR or the PEACE here in this place
Can you just imagine CHRISTMAS WITH OUR SAVIOR face to face

I'll ask him to LIFT YOUR SPIRIT as I tell him of your love so then PRAY FOR ONE ANOTHER as you lift your eyes above.

Please let your HEARTS BE JOYFUL and let your SPIRIT SING for I am spending CHRISTMAS IN HEAVEN and I'm walking WITH THE KING.

Ethan is everywhere (A Poem for Ethan)

Ethan in the gentle rain and bright sun that follows soon...

Ethan in the twinkle of each star and winking smile of "The Man on the Moon"...

Ethan in the whistling winds and autumn leaves that blow...

Ethan in each flake of winter's first fallen snow...

Ethan riding on the tips of butterflies' wings...

Ethan in each drop of morning dew that comes with early spring...

Ethan taken far too soon—for God only knows why...

Ethan in each and every tear that weeps from my eyes...

Ethan never far away—for in my heart so dear...

I love and miss you, Ethan, oh so much—and will ever and always keep you near...

July 5, 2007, at 10:36 p.m., our little angel was born! Weighing a healthy 8lbs, 5 ozs and with a head full of hair! - so wonderfully cute, so absolutely perfect! Words could never express how seeing that little guy for the first time made us feel - instantly our world was a little brighter, our purpose a little clearer, and our hearts...how they began to overflow with such a love that we had never felt before. <3

July 8, 2007

On July 8th we got to bring him home! I remember Jason checking his car seat SOOO many times just to make sure it was perfect.

& off we gooooooooooooo! :D Ethan on his way home from the hospital:

A short drive later, we arrived! As soon as we got in the house, Daddy took him around and gave him a complete tour. He showed him all the rooms, his nursery with all the toys that we had for him, and introduced him to his "brother" nugget (the bunny).

First Day Home

He was wearing a little Dino onesie that we had picked out and his little glubs.

:) Once the tour was complete, we put him in his little hammock swing and sat looking on in amazement... our little Ethan was finally here!

From there, the fun began! It truly didn't take us long to get adjusted to being the best parents we could possibly be for our little guy. He brought out the absolute best in us, and for the next couple weeks, we would anxiously wait for him to wake up from his naps just so we could play with him again. He lovedddd to sleep! Daddy found the perfect music to play for him to help him fall asleep when he was tired - a band called Iron & Wine. Ethan loved it! No matter what, he would instantly quiet down and fall asleep in his Daddy's arms whenever he would play it for him. He also liked listening to his Baby Einstein C.D. & a Neil Young CD that Jason had made for him. :)

One thing for sure, we liked to get Ethan all dressed up! Here he is at 9 days old, looking sharp in his shirt and tie. ;)

We also decided to dress him in little overalls with a fire dog on them and take pictures of him with his Great Grandpa's fire helmet. As you can see, he wasn't too amused at first. I think the look on his face says it all! (hehe):

July 23, 2007

On July 23rd, his b-button finally fell off so we could give him his first real bath! He truly, TRULY hated it! He cried the entire time, which meant that most of our pictures looked just like this:

It would take a month or so before he started to actually like bath time, and then he couldn't get enough of it! He would love it when I would run the water along his neck, and he would always open his mouth up in excitement! Bath time was always fun for Mommy too because that was my time to take a peek at his little nakey butt in the mirror before I put him in the tub. hehe

On July 28th he got to go to his first birthday party! It was his little cousin J's birthday party day. We spent the day celebrating out in the backyard at his Aunt Sabrina's house. :D

August 2, 2007

On August 2, 2007, we took our first family trip! We headed up north to Boston to introduce our new little bundle of joy to Jason's family. It was quite a drive, but believe it or not, Ethan slept nearly the entire drive up! We would pull over to rest stations and give him a little play time, and then, just like that, he'd be back to snoozin'. ;)

Daddy showing E Booty at a rest stop! :D hehe

It was a great trip in that he got to meet all of his Aunties, Uncles, and cousins up there, as well as his Great Grandpa!

Ethan headed back home to Virginia with his Nana and Papa L a day early so that Jason and I could spend a day to ourselves in NYC. This was the first time that we were away from each other for more than just an hour or two. Although Jason & I had a great time in NYC, I must admit that I cried (more than once!) that day because I truly missed him so much! I couldn't wait to get home to see him.

August 12, 2007

Ethan's first walk! It was finally a cooler day to where I could take him around the neighborhood. We walked around the block and alongside the lake to see the duckies. :) He looked sooo cute sitting up like a big boy in his stroller and after we got home, we sat out on the front porch for a while just taking in the beautiful day. This is the first time that I truly noticed how red his hair was! When he was born it looked so very dark, but it started to lighten up over time (or overnight it seems!).

Daddy was at work that day which is why I got away with putting him in his "Hugs 4 Mommy" onesie - otherwise I think Daddy would have been jealous. ;)

September 5, 2007

September 5, 2007 - Ethan turned 2 months old! He had to go get all of his shots that day but he did really well! I also learned that he had grown! He weighed 14lbs, 3 ozs at his check-up and the nurse giggled and said that he was "pleasantly plump!" I couldn't have agreed more. :) By that time, he had grown so very much and I kidded in telling Jason that I thought he was growing up too fast!

He could now hold his head up pretty well.

His favorite thing ever was his little moo moo cow chair.

He began to love bath time.

He would try to bat at his toys!

He could no longer fit into his "newborn" size clothes. :[

When I'd be in the room, he hardly took his eyes off me.

He would get incredibly happy when we sit him up on the couch next to us!

He enjoyed music, a lot. His favorite: Iron & Wine

He would love when Jason would take his hands and act like he's playing the drums.

His smiles came in. :)

His favorite C.D. to fall asleep to was Neil Young.

He had to wear size 1-2 diapers...not just 1s.

& if you would stick your tongue out, he'd stick his out too!

September 8, 2007

The day we went to waterside! We dressed Ethan in the cutesttttt outfit we could find. A little white onesie, khaki cargo pants and his little froggie shoes and rattle bracelet. :) It was such a nice day out, and we walked around for a while until we found the perfect tree to sit down under for our picnic.

When we took Ethan out of his stroller, it didn't take us long to realize that he did a poopie all in his pants! (hehe) So, Mommy and Daddy had to undress him on our picnic blanket and clean him up. It all worked out to his benefit though, because then he got to lay nakey on the blanket and take a nap in the sunshine. :)

What a wonderful day that was! Mommy and Daddy smile every time we think of that day and all the fun we had.

October 20, 2008

October 20, 2007 was a day we will surely never forget as it was the day our angel returned home to Heaven. We had a Halloween party for him at our house that day and welcomed all of his little cousins and family to celebrate with us. It was a great time and he got to spend a lot of time with everyone as they enjoyed bobbing for apples and playing other Halloween games. That evening I laid him down for a nap and a short time later I checked on him to find him not breathing. It is truly a moment I will never forget, and still find it so very hard to put that feeling into words even today. Our little angel, truly became an angel that day.

We would later learn that Ethan passed away due to SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome) which claims the lives of thousands of healthy babies each year. A truly astounding number, considering that scientists have yet to pinpoint the cause or causes of SIDS. There is no medical test to detect it, and it truly is heartbreaking to consider that it is the leading cause of death among infants 1 month to 1 year of life.

I miss my son more than anything in this world, and continue to pray that in my lifetime, doctors and scientists will be able to determine the cause and prevention for SIDS, as all babies deserve the chance to live.

We miss you, little efan eddie. <3 always.

Our Deepest Sympathy
